

DATA PROVISIONING SERVICES

Sending the right data in the right format at the right time to internal applications and data repositories, third party tool vendors and regulatory agencies can be a daunting exercise:

1. Many organizations struggle with acquisition of large volumes of data in a timely manner from highly complex data sources for consumption by internal and external platforms
2. The data required by internally developed or third-party solutions requires transformation from source data structures into a wide variety of file formats and messaging standards, often requiring extensive coding
3. Data submission to internal and external platforms often poses significant technical and resource challenges
4. Effective load control to monitor the file and message submission processes requires resources and tools that have not been established
5. License fees and time and materials-based implementation costs are often exorbitantly high

Wyntec's Data Provisioning services, powered by our unique A2B Data™ platform, will lower your project costs and risks while reducing your operational burden

1. We can acquire data from any data source at lightning-fast speed, while maintaining traceability back to the data source for future problem resolution
2. Wyntec's data mentors can help transform data into any target format in days rather than weeks or months by leveraging pre-built data provisioning models and client-accessible business rules to minimize coding
3. Our data provisioning platform can push data in any format to any target location
4. Our Load Control service collects operational statistics, performs audit reporting, and captures error and transactional log information, all while delivering 24/7 monitoring services
5. Our Data Provisioning services are entirely delivery based – you only pay when an object is delivered

What tangible benefits would your organization realize if it could:

- Lower the cost to integrate trusted data across your enterprise
- Easily satisfy regulatory reporting mandates and vendor file submission requirements
- Accelerate project timelines and reduce risks
- Save time and money with minimal code to develop and maintain
