

WYNTEC SERVICES OVERVIEW

Establishing and sustaining a sound, affordable data management “ecosystem” has become an enormous challenge for many organizations

1. Competent data management resources are becoming much more costly and extremely difficult to hire and retain. Additionally, should organizations maintain full-time staff when data management is not a core competency but rather an important business need?
2. Acquisition of large volumes of data in a timely manner from highly complex data sources, coupled with the required transformation to a wide variety of formats, create significant obstacles to the timely completion of data integration initiatives.
3. Developing an understanding of how data is defined, connected, transformed, and utilized is extremely difficult. The quality of data used by stakeholders to make strategic decisions is often suspect at best.
4. “Lift and shift” initiatives to migrate on-premise data integration platforms to the cloud are risky and costly. Self-service capabilities that allow non-technical subject matter experts to develop data integration components are typically non-existent

Wyntec’s proven service components leverage our unique A2BData™ platform to address all these challenges and many more. Our engagements are priced using a delivery-based model rather than an unpredictable time and materials approach. You only pay when we deliver!
